See "Additional Information" in the Offering Circular. Capitalized terms used in this Pricing Supplement have the meanings we gave them in the Offering Circular, unless we specify otherwise.

The Medium-Term Notes offered pursuant to this Pricing Supplement are complex and highly structured debt securities that may not pay a significant amount of interest for extended periods of time. The Medium-Term Notes are not a suitable investment for individuals seeking a steady stream of income

The Medium-Term Notes may not be suitable investments for you. You should not purchase the Medium-Term Notes unless you understand and are able to bear the yield, market, liquidity and other possible risks associated with the Medium-Term Notes. You should read and evaluate the discussion of risk factors (especially those risk factors that may be particularly relevant to this security) that appears in the Offering Circular under "Risk Factors" before purchasing any of the Medium-Term Notes.

The Medium-Term Notes, including any interest or return of discount on the Medium-Term Notes, are not guaranteed by and are not debts or obligations of the United States or any federal agency or instrumentality other than Freddie Mac.

RISK FACTORS:

An investment in the Medium-Term Notes entails certain risks not associated with an investment in conventional fixed rate debt securities. See “Risk Factors” generally and “Various Factors Could Adversely Affect the Trading Value and Yield of Your Debt Securities” in the Offering Circular. The interest rate of the Medium-Term Notes will be equal to LIBOR for the Index Currency at the Index Maturity minus a Spread of 14 basis points (-0.14 percentage points), subject to the “Interest Rate” provisions above. Investors should consider the risk that the variable interest rate on the Medium-Term Notes may be less than that payable on a conventional fixed rate debt security issued by Freddie Mac at the same time. Because the Medium-Term Notes may not pay a significant amount of interest for extended periods of time, the Medium-Term Notes are not a suitable investment for individuals seeking a steady stream of income.

The secondary market for, and the market value of, the Medium-Term Notes will be affected by a number of factors independent of the creditworthiness of Freddie Mac, including the level and direction of interest rates, the variable rate of interest payable on the Medium-Term Notes, the anticipated level and potential volatility of LIBOR for the Index Currency at the Index Maturity, the method of calculating LIBOR for the Index Currency at the Index Maturity, the time remaining to the maturity of the Medium-Term Notes, the aggregate principal amount of the Medium-Term Notes and the availability of comparable instruments. The level of LIBOR for the Index Currency at the Index Maturity depends on a number of interrelated factors, including economic, financial and political events, over which Freddie Mac has no control. The following table, showing the level of LIBOR for the Index Currency at the Index Maturity in effect for the Hypothetical Determination Dates listed below, illustrates the variability of that rate:

Historical Levels of 3-Month LIBOR

Hypothetical Determination Date	3-Month LIBOR Percentage
2/4/2007	5.36000
5/4/2007	5.35656
8/4/2007	5.36000
11/4/2007	4.87000
2/4/2008	3.14500
5/4/2008	2.77000
8/4/2008	2.80000
11/4/2008	2.71000

The historical experience of LIBOR for the Index Currency at the Index Maturity should not be taken as an indication of the future performance of LIBOR for the Index Currency at the Index Maturity during the term of the Medium-Term Notes. Fluctuations in the level of LIBOR for the Index Currency at the Index Maturity make the Medium-Term Notes interest rates difficult to predict and can result in actual interest rates to investors that are lower than anticipated. In addition, historical interest rates are not necessarily indicative of future interest rates. Fluctuations in interest rates and interest rate trends that have occurred in the past are not necessarily indicative of fluctuations that may occur in the future, which may be wider or narrower than those that have occurred historically.
