

It is important to establish contact early and often with borrowers who have become delinquent in their mortgage payments and begin considering options that may be appropriate to bring the mortgage current. Resolving any past due amounts early in the delinquency will help protect the borrower's equity and credit rating, as well as Freddie Mac's interest.

What is Quality Right Party Contact?

Quality right party contact occurs when you establish contact with the borrower, co-borrower or trusted advisor, such as a housing counselor, and discuss the most appropriate options for delinquency resolution.

You must make every attempt to achieve quality right party contact by:

- Determining the reason for the delinquency and whether the reason is temporary or permanent in nature
- Determining the borrower's ability to repay the debt
- Setting payment expectations and educating the borrower on the availability of alternatives to foreclosure as appropriate
- Obtaining a commitment from the borrower to either resolve the delinquency by paying the total delinquent amount or engaging in an alternative to foreclosure solution

- The average time to answer a telephone call must be 60 seconds or less.
- The average time for a live operator to respond to e-mails must be 48 hours or less. (Automated responses are not included in this performance standard.)
